Product Description

Home Use White Food Waste Disposal Compost Kitchen Machine

Product Description

The Food Waste Disposer represents a revolutionary innovation in household appliances. With a simple one-button operation, it can transform kitchen waste into valuable fertilizer in a remarkably short time frame of 4 to 8 hours. It automatically adjusts the working time based on the moisture content of the waste, thereby streamlining kitchen chores and significantly reducing the time spent on cleaning. This not only eases the burden of daily kitchen management but also actively promotes environmental protection.

The operation of this appliance is divided into three distinct phases. Firstly, the Drying phase: intense heat is applied to extract the moisture from the waste, facilitating the subsequent decomposition process. Secondly, the Grinding phase: high-speed blade rotation pulverizes the waste into a fine consistency suitable for conversion into fertilizer. Finally, the Cooling phase: after the grinding process is complete, the bucket undergoes a cooling period to ensure safe handling and removal.
